

Slocan Valley Rail Trail

Trail Etiquette

This is a rural recreational trail with limited services.

- Please respect the rights of all trail users and keep to the right.
- Cyclists slow down, communicate and exercise caution when passing hikers and equestrians. Give horses a wide berth.
- Anticipate that other trail users may be around corners or in blind spots.
- Respect the environment and the rights of adjoining land owners. Do not trespass on private property and do not exit the trail except at public access points.
- Respect open and closed gate arrangements. Leave ranch and farm gates as you find them, or as marked.
- The trail route may go through active logging, trapping, farming and mining environments. For your safety, please obey any industrial signage.
- Do not take shortcuts or ride off the trail as it will damage vegetation and cause erosion.
- Smoking, camping and campfires are not allowed on the trail. Dispose of all waste properly.
- Keep dogs on a leash or under control at all times.
- Do not litter - if you pack it in, pack it out.

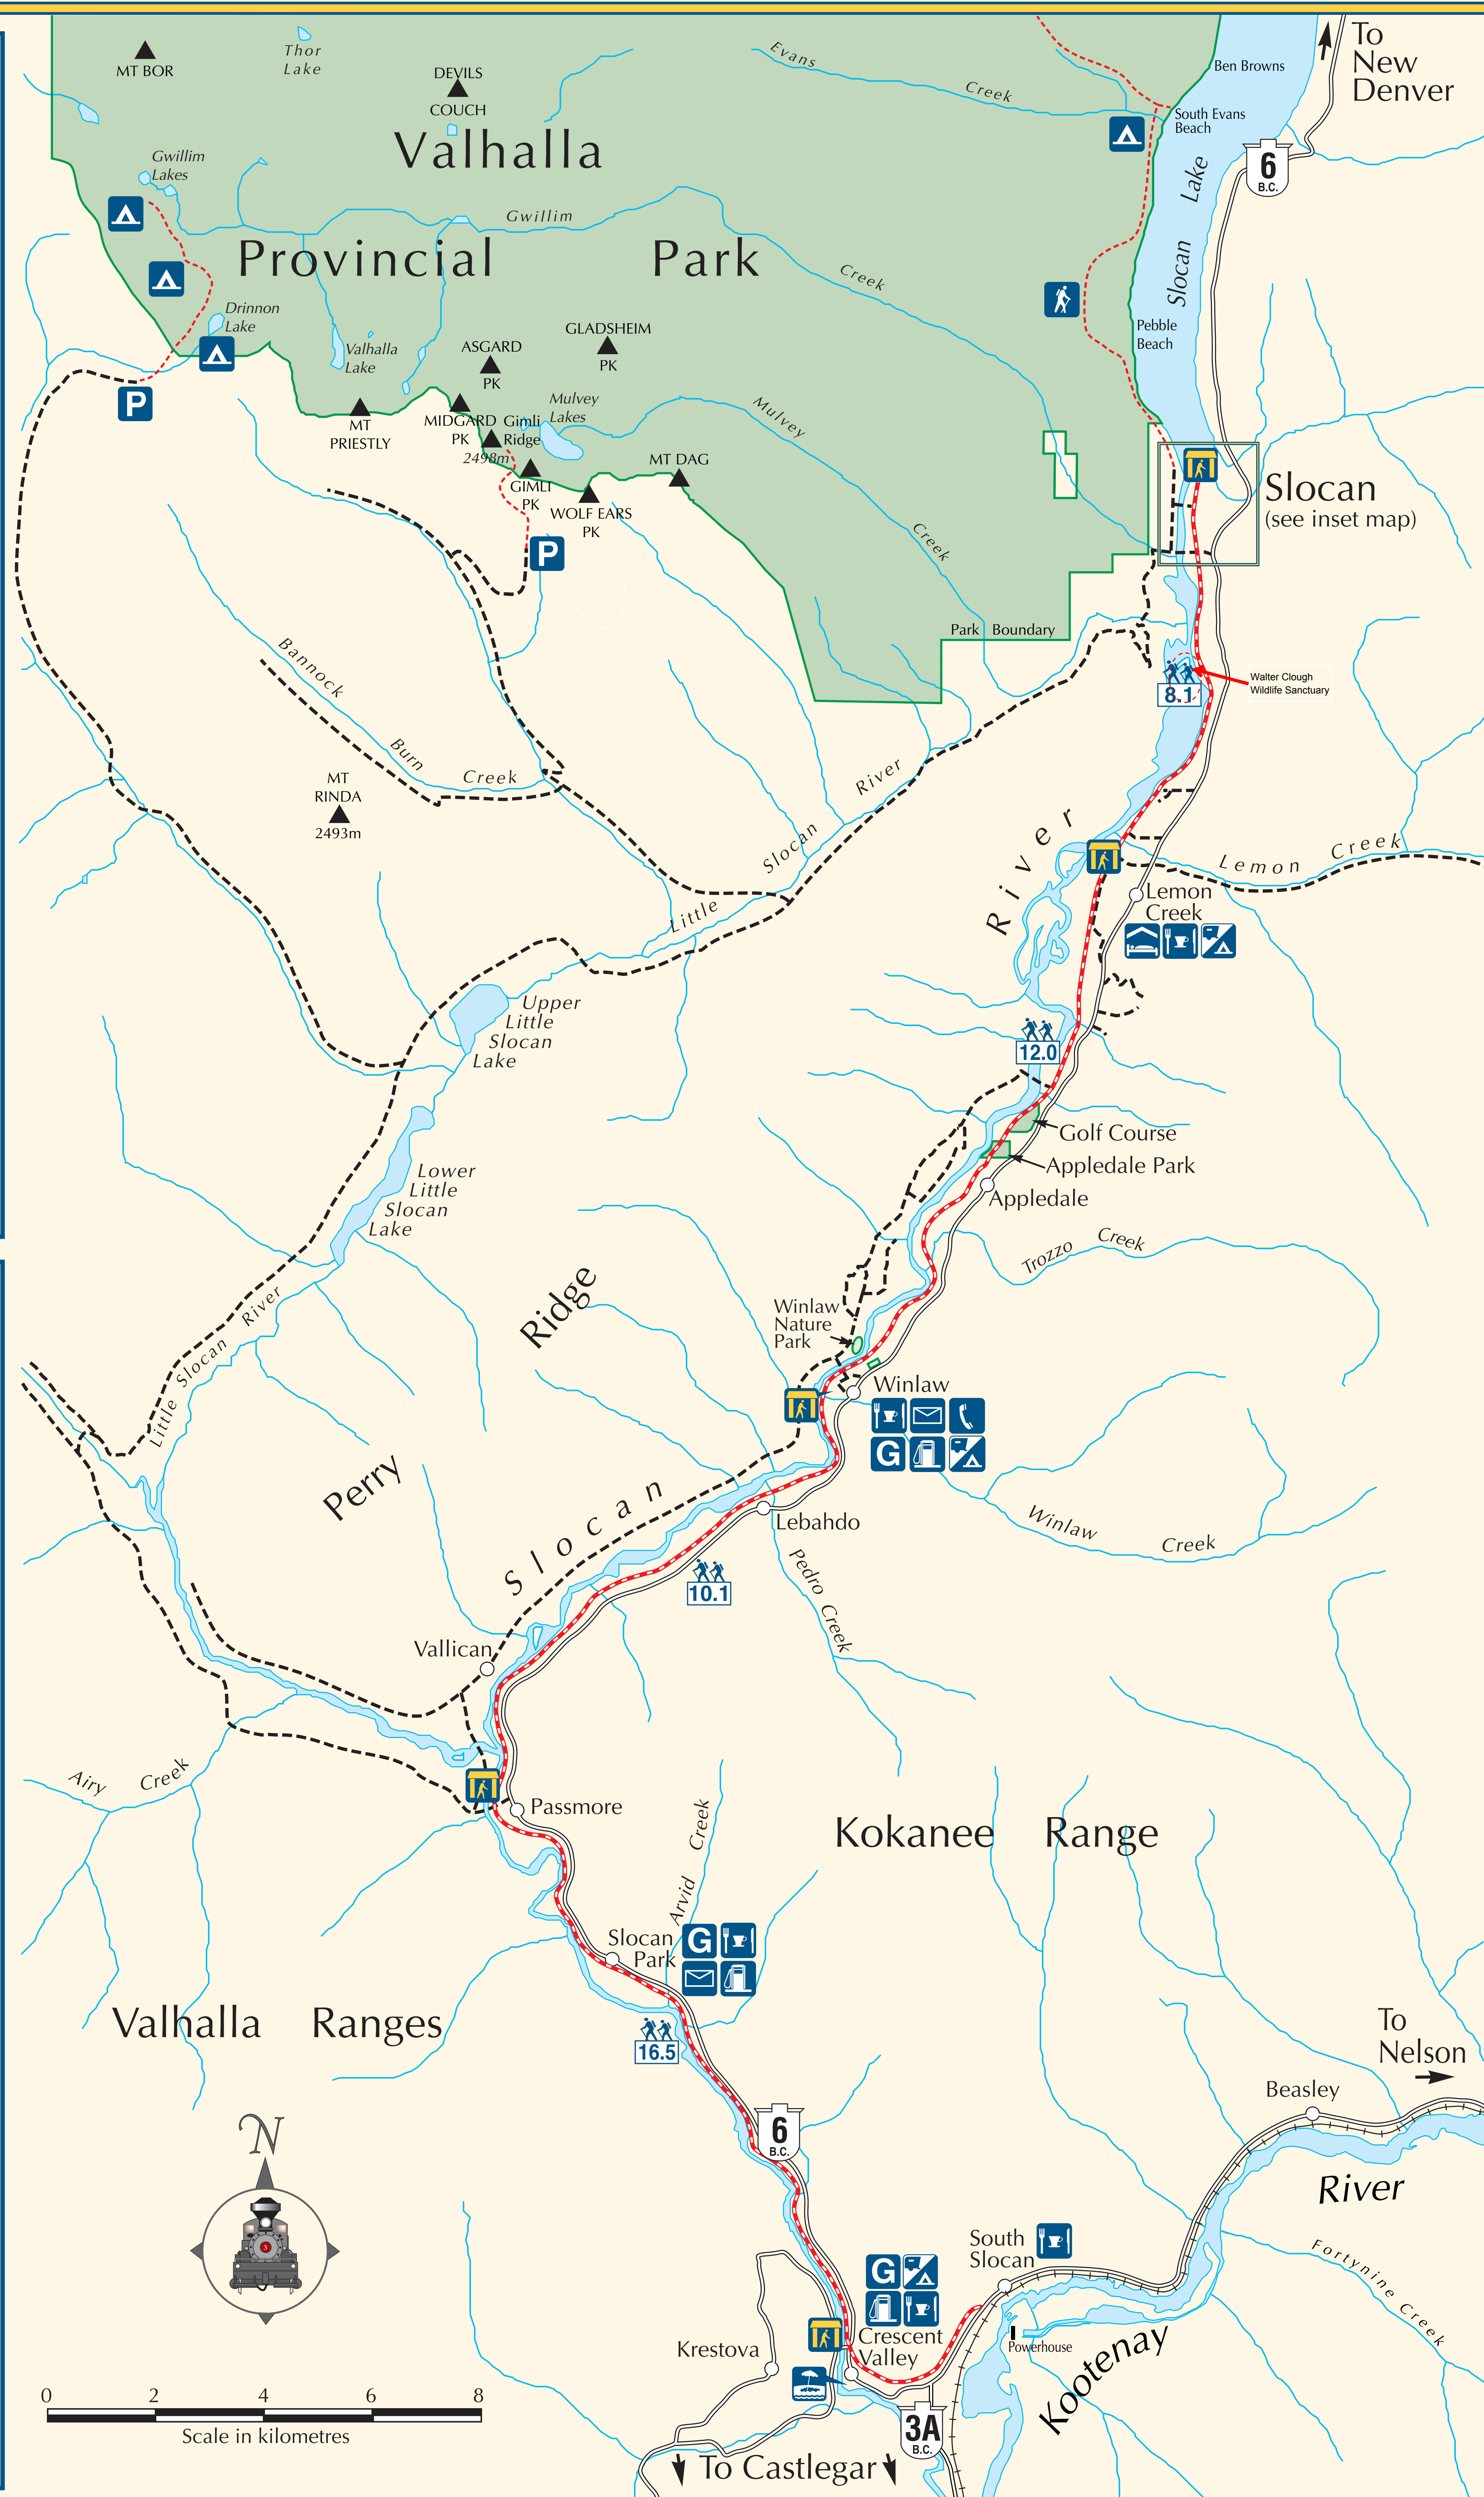

Be Prepared

FOR YOUR SAFETY:

- Always be alert and respectful of wildlife.
- Expect snow or rain storms at any time. Dress for significant weather changes. Wear good footwear.
- Carry plenty of water. Open sources of water may not be safe to drink without filters or treatment.
- Be aware of rock falls, slides and washouts.
- Be aware of communication limitations. Cellular telephone coverage may not be available.
- BC laws require cyclists to wear helmets at all times.
- Use caution near rivers and creeks. Strong currents exist.
